Games Are Keeping
Up With Our Times

Among the adult games people play, now on the market, are such real-life oriented exercises as the Cities Game, which involves secret deals and voting buying; Confrontation, pitting the Establishment against students; Dirty Water, which you can win by keeping solvent while maintaining the ecological balance of your lake; Smog; Risk, involving the conquest of the planet; several war games; Diplomacy; Body Talk, the Mating Game, Adultery, Trip-Tac-Toe, Bundling, Seduction and one called Games People Play.

A friend of ours down the road a piece, though, says count him out of all of them. He says he's not interested in any of these new-fangled sophisticated forms of amusement, he's having trouble enough beating his 11-year-old son at checkers. — Anderson (S.C.) Independent

Deciding A Champ

It now appears that the biggest sports attraction in many a year — the heavyweight title showdown between Joe Frazier and Cassius Clay — is headed for Madison Square Garden on March 8. If all goes smoothly, the fight is expected to be the richest sporting event ever — with each fighter getting $2.5 million.

Frazier is currently the heavyweight champ only by definition. Louisville's Clay won the title in the ring and he never lost it. Maybe Frazier can earn the title. If he mauls Muhammad to it, no one will ever question his right to wear the crown. — Lexington (Ky.) Leader

Another Medal Hoax

Everybody, we suppose, remembers the case of the general who had to return a medal because it was discovered that enlisted men had concocted part of the story that led to his being decorated.

Now the Army has revoked the award of two Bronze Star medals it has found were authorized for days in Vietnam. The dogs were listed, with fictitious names and serial numbers, along with 19 members of the 25th Infantry Division who received Bronze Stars.

The hoax was discovered after a St. Louis serviceman reported it in a letter to the St. Louis Dispatch. He said, "This little joke has greatly reduced the value of the Bronze Star." He's right. Such nonsense should be stopped. — Savannah (Ga.) Evening Press

Cold and Fair Predicted for Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cold but fair weather is in store for Arkansas through the weekend.

Thursday's summer-like weather was replaced by chilling temperatures as a cold front moved into the state.

The highs Thursday ranged from 50 at Harrison to a record breaking high of 77 at Little Rock.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 26; Harrison, 25; Jonesboro, 30; Pine Bluff, 38; Texarkana, 47; El Dorado, 49; Memphis, 32; Little Rock, 35; and Fort Smith, 32.

Precipitation recorded during the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a.m. today included .02 of an inch of rain at Texarkana and a trace at Jonesboro, Pine Bluff and Little Rock.

Jury to Probe AM&N Deficit

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The Jefferson County Grand Jury will meet Feb. 1 and investigate, among other things, Arkansas AM&N's financial troubles.

Last year, legislative auditors reported a $1.4 million deficit and turned up a $92,000 shortage in a check of the college's books. The audit report was turned over to Prosecutor Joe Holmes of Pine Bluff late last month.

Redistrict Plan Approval Seems Likely

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Bearden-Wilson congressional redistricting bill seems to have a relatively clear track toward approval in the state Senate.

Sen. Bill H. Walmsley of Bald Knob, author of a different reapportionment proposal, promises a fight "to the last breath" for his measure, but key factors will work against him.

Walmsley's bill, Senate Bill 59, and the other measure, SB 58, were introduced Wednesday, read once, then got a second reading Thursday and were sent to the Apportionment Committee.

Sens. John F. Bearden Jr. of Leachville and Nick Wilson of Pocahontas introduced SB 68. An identical bill was introduced Wednesday in the House. All three bills are to draw new congressional districts in line with population shifts reflected by the 1970 federal census of Arkansas.

Walmsley's bill differs from the others in one respect: Which county — Independence or Arkansas — will be moved from the 2nd District to the 1st District?

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., represents the 2nd District and is considered not only the most powerful member of Arkansas' House delegation but also one of the most influential men in Washington.

The 1st District is represented by Bill Alexander, who has the least seniority among the state's delegation.

Walmsley would keep Independence in the 2nd and send Arkansas to the 1st. The other bill would keep Arkansas in the 2nd and send Independence to the 1st.

A survey of senators Thursday indicated that close to a majority already favored the Bearden-Wilson proposal. The measure would need 18 votes for approval.

Other factors that will work against Walmsley:

—The Bearden-Wilson proposal was drafted in Washington, no doubt under the supervision of the Arkansas congressmen. Mills and Reps. David Pryor, D-Ark., and John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., officially are neutral on the issue. Alexander forwarded the

Says This Is Season for Common Cold and Twinges of Arthritis

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — These are the days when a man wishes he could dig himself a hole and hibernate like a bear or a groundhog.

There really isn't much point in being above ground from now until April. All a fellow would miss is a few snowfalls, a common cold or two, and some twinges of arthritis and the rheumatiz.

Man is simply not fit society for himself at this season of the year. His temper is worn threadbare; his heart is a red icicle; the blood in his veins flows like clattered milk.

Yes, the world is a vast yawn. Everyone wants to resign from the rat race and become a beachcomber. There are a lot of stirring things worth doing, but no one feels like getting them done.

Husband is grouchy, housewife is touchy, the children are surly, nature is sullen. The mood of the human race matches the color of the gray-clad sky. Everyone acts as if he were on the way to a funeral, and looks as somber-faced as if it were his own.

It seems like it is always either snowing or raining—or getting ready to do both. The leaky-footed weather goes on grim day after grim day after grim day. The sun, when it does peek forth from a mantle of clouds,

Nashville Man Dies of Injuries

Allies Battle to Reopen Supply Road

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese task force trying to reopen Phnom Penh's highway to the sea battled North Vietnamese forces today around a key mountain pass 95 miles southwest of the Cambodian capital.

The U.S. Command announced that an American plane was shot down in another sector of Cambodia.

South Vietnamese military headquarters said the task force smashed into more than 200 North Vietnamese at Stung Chhay, one of two key mountain passes controlled by the enemy on Highway 4.

Fighting raged until dusk Thursday as South Vietnamese fighter-bombers and artillery pummeled the North Vietnamese positions on the heights overlooking the road. Reports from the area said the fighting resumed today.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said 41 North Vietnamese and five government troops had been killed and 24 South Vietnamese wounded.

"It is not clear who controls the area," the spokesman said.

While the southern task force tried to push north, the Saigon government said, a force of South Vietnamese marines was moving south toward the Pich Nil pass, the other enemy stronghold on the highway, about 60 miles southwest of Phnom Penh.

"The marines have not arrived there yet," the spokesman said. He added that he did not know how far the marines were from the pass. However, the Cambodian commander in the area said Thursday that his troops were advancing on Pich Nil and would retake it from the North Vietnamese and that he was keeping the South Vietnamese marines in reserve.

Says Southern Schools Are More Integrated Than Those in North

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government claims a victory against racial segregation in predominantly white Southern schools, and says it will shift its attack to Northern schools where the problem has not improved.

But a new form of discrimination—against minority teachers—may be cropping up in the South and will be watched, Elliot L. Richardson, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said Thursday.

New statistics from HEW show the percentage of black students attending majority white schools in 11 Southern states doubled between 1968 and 1970, from 18.4 per cent to 38.1 per cent.

In contrast, no change was found last fall in the 32 Northern and Western states which had 27.7 per cent of their black pupils in mostly white schools two years ago.

Figures for the nation as a whole showed such desegregation increased from 23.4 per cent in 1968 to 32.8 per cent in 1970.

"The improved picture nationwide is largely attributable in strides made in the South in the past few years, where desegregation is now more extensive than 88mmmr regions," Richardson said.

As another measurement of desegregation in Southern schools, HEW said only 18.4 per cent of black students were attending all-black schools last fall compared with 68 per cent in 1968.

Richardson said his department also has sent letters to all state school authorities warning them the government will prosecute any district that discriminates against minority teachers.

Officials in South Lebanon said Sarafand was a "secret little harbor used by the guerrillas for embarking to the occupied Gaza Strip."

AP Correspondent Elias Antar reported from Sarafand that an estimated 120 Israeli commandos made the raid in four helicopters. He said they blew up two guerrilla strongpoints on the shore, but the guerrillas and the Lebanese army claimed they fought off the raiders before they reached the main guerrilla base.

The Lebanese army said the Israelis made two assaults. The Israelis said they learned of the base from five Palestinian frogmen who landed Jan. 2 on the northern Israeli coast "to kidnap an Israeli citizen."

An Israeli spokesman said the raid was in retaliation for a number of Arab guerrilla raids on Israeli settlements along the Lebanese border. The last previous retaliatory raid into Lebanon occurred on Dec. 27, when several Arabs and one Israeli were reported killed in an attack on a village six miles across the border.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, mediator Gunnar V. Jarving awaited the reaction from Egypt and Jordan to proposals which Israeli leaders communicated to him last weekend when he visited Jerusalem.

The entire U.S. 3rd Marine Amphibious Force and 1st Marine Division at Da Nang are being withdrawn from Vietnam by next June, and their headquarters camps and other facilities likely will be turned over to the South Vietnamese.

When U.S. installations or facilities are declared surplus the command conducts a study to determine the best usage. The spokesman says the following possibilities are considered in order of priority:

—Use by another U.S. military unit in Vietnam.

—Transfer to the South Vietnamese armed forces.

—Transfer to another allied force in Vietnam.

—Use by a U.S. military unit outside Vietnam, if the facility can be moved economically.

—Use by another U.S. government agency in Vietnam.

"When a facility is transferred to the South Vietnamese they adapt it to meet their requirements," he said. "For example, they may use part of it for housing the families of soldiers. Part of the barracks area may be converted to dependent housing."

There has been criticism that some of the bases turned over are too big for the South Vietnamese to manage; thus some of the facilities end up in unauthorized hands and the bases are not maintained as before.

Policemen Go on Strike in New York

By BOB MONROE

NEW YORK (AP) — Hundreds of city policemen, angered by a court decision that left their pay parity dispute unresolved, refused to patrol their beats today in a spreading wildcat work stoppage.

Captains, lieutenants, sergeants and detectives were ordered to fill the gap and a City Hall spokesman said the emergency measures assured adequate protection. There was no immediate indication of an increase in crime.

The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association claimed at 1:30 a.m. EST the job action was "virtually complete" but police headquarters said the extent of the stoppage varied from precinct to precinct. It declined to give a breakdown.

Telephone checks by newsmen indicated that wide areas of Brooklyn, the Bronx and upper Manhattan had only sparse

Another Is Acquitted in My Lai Case

By WILLIAM L. CHAZE

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — Sgt. Charles Hutto, who drove a truck and chopped cotton before joining the Army, has been acquitted of assault with intent to murder My Lai villagers during an infantry operation in 1968.

The verdict was returned Thursday by a jury of six officers who deliberated a little more than two hours.

Hutto was the second soldier to be tried and acquitted on charges arising from the attack on My Lai. S. Sgt. David Mitchell of St. Francisville, La., was found innocent Nov. 20 at Ft. Hood, Tex., of assault with intent to kill.

Hutto, 22, of Tallulah, La., an eighth grade dropout, stood at attention in the cramped, paneled courtroom at 3rd Army headquarters as Col. Donald Laffoon, president of the court-martial, announced the verdict.

All of the jurors were Vietnam veterans.

Glancing at a piece of paper in his hands and then staring straight at Hutto, Laffoon, a bespectacled, mustached officer from Highland, Ind., said: "Not guilty, your honor."

Hutto, deannounced by blinking, took a deep breath and exhaled. The soldier, whose wife, Brenda, was weeping

WASHINGTON (AP) — In his most conciliatory speech to American youth, President Nixon has urged the young to try out the system in "an alliance of the generations." He also said he will ask the next Congress to consolidate most federal volunteer programs into a new agency.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housing Secretary George Romney has suspended indefinitely almost 40 per cent of the government's $140 million mortgage subsidy program until abuses are straightened out. The freeze will affect subsidies for existing homes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has appointed Sen. Robert J. Dole Republican National Committee chairman, and named two co-chairmen in a modification of the committee leadership structure. Ratification of the changes and appointments by the committee today was considered only a formality.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has knocked down two seldom-used postal obscenity laws, a move expected to have little effect on the U.S. Postal Service's push against smut.

NEW YORK (AP) — Hundreds of city policemen, angered by a court decision in their drive for pay parity, are refusing to patrol their beats as a wildcat work stoppage spreads.

Death Cause Sought in Student Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state medical examiner's office says it hopes to have "some answers" by this afternoon in the deaths of two Arkansas AM&N students.

A spokesman said Thursday night that tests had revealed a foreign "compound" in the body fluids of the two students who died early Wednesday.

Earlier Thursday, police at Pine Bluff said an arrest was expected in connection with the drug deaths. Authorities said the arrest was expected when tests to determine what type of drugs was involved are completed and when autopsies are finished.

Elimination of Poverty Said Possible

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers says the elimination of poverty is possible but that there must be an enrichment of welfare programs to provide incentive and motivation to the poor.

Bumpers called providing the poor with incentive to break out of their poverty the "challenge of the day."

Bumpers, speaking Thursday to a meeting of the Arkansas Community Action Agencies Association, said current welfare assistance is necessary, but that it only alleviated poverty on a "day-to-day basis."

Prime Rate Cut to 6% by Big Bank

NEW YORK (AP) — First National City Bank of New York, one of the nation's largest, touched off today the second quarter-point reduction in the prime rate of interest in nine days.

First National City lowered the maximum interest it charges its most creditworthy customers—chiefly corporations—to 6½ per cent from 6¾ per cent, effective immediately.

Its action was immediately duplicated by several other major banks, including Chase Manhattan, Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co., Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., and First Pennsylvania Banking & Trust Co. of Philadelphia. Chemical Bank said it was lowering its prime rate to 6¼ per cent, effective Monday.

The rate was cut to 6½ per cent from 6¾ per cent on Jan. 6 by major banks.

First National City's move, if it is followed by other major banks, would mean a further easing of the money situation because of a slackening demand for loans and growing availability of lending funds.

During the height of the Nixon administration's tight money policy, the prime rate reached an all-time high of 8½ per cent on June 9, 1969.

The rate was cut on five occasions during 1970.

The falling interest charge was expected by financial observers to seep down to the consumer level in the form of lower rates for mortgage and personal loans.

Trespassing Charge Is Dropped

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP) — Trespass charges filed against four Shreveport, La., men have been dropped.

The four—Dr. Whitney Boggs, Whitney Boggs III, Wade Sample, and Brood Garrett—were arrested Jan. 3 after completing a float trip on the Cossatot River.

Deputy Prosecutor Garnet Norwood had filed the charges on a complaint by C. T. Cregar, a landowner on both sides of the river where the U.S. 70 bridge crosses east of here. Norwood said he had dropped the charges on the recommendation of Cregar.

Norwood said an investigation of the incident showed that the four men drove to the Cossatot in two cars and parked one near a bridge on Cregar's property. Norwood said the men then drove the other car upstream to Ladd Bridge and embarked on the float trip. He said they were arrested after landing at the area where the first car was parked.

patrols. Police headquarters said all emergency calls were being answered.

The job action began soon after word of the court decision in Albany was announced Thursday.

PBA President Edward J. Kiernan appealed to the men to stay on the job until a delegate meeting on Tuesday. "If action must be taken, I ask that it be a decision made by the delegate body," he said in a television appearance.

Nonetheless, the stoppage spread during the evening.

Mayor John V. Lindsay said in an 11 p.m. statement that "the city will take every step necessary to protect the public safety. I would hope that every officer will respect his oath of office and his badge."

He summoned his staff and top police brass to meetings this morning.

Chief Inspector Michael J. Codd ordered all members of the force to work 12-hour shifts starting at Thursday midnight. All administrative work was suspended and special units reassigned to patrol duty. All vacations and days off were canceled.

The patrolmen were upset because the state's highest court ruled that a lower court trial was necessary to decide the PBA's claim for a $100-a-month increase for its 30,000 members under a patrolmen-sergeant pay parity formula.

In its 4-3 decision, the Court of Appeals in Albany overturned two lower court findings that upheld the PBA contention.

In addition to touching off the police job action, the court decision threatened to further snarl contract negotiations between the city and its patrolmen, firemen and sanitationmen. All three contracts expired Jan. 1.

The basic issue is the PBA's claim that its 1968 contract calls for salaries of patrolmen and sergeants to be maintained at a 3-to-3.5 ratio. When sergeants were given a raise, to maintain their parity with fire lieutenants, the patrolmen sought the $100-a-month increase to restore their ratio.

But the city balked saying that if the raise was granted it would touch off an endless spiral of increases. It said the ratio agreement had not been made part of "a formal, written collective-bargaining contract."

Testimony in My Lai Trial Continues

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — The rookie chief of the 11th Infantry Brigade gathered his company commanders for a pep talk on the eve of the My Lai attack, a court-martial witness says, and told them they hadn't been aggressive enough with the Viet Cong.

"Wipe them out for good," Sgt. Dennis R. Vasquez quoted the colonel as saying. The next day, Capt. Ernest Medina's Charley Company swept into the village expecting to meet a fierce Viet Cong unit. Instead, the government claims, the Americans slaughtered uncounted numbers of defenseless Vietnamese civilians, including women and children.

The pep talk was related Thursday to the jury trying Lt. William L. Calley Jr. on charges of murdering 102 "Oriental human beings" in the village nearly three years ago. Calley led the 1st Platoon in Medina's company.

The testimony of Vasquez was offered to bolster the defense contention that officers far superior to Calley were responsible for the alleged civilian killings.

Vasquez, then a captain, was artillery liaison officer for the task force, a unit of the 11th Infantry.

The day before the March 16, 1968 assault, Vasquez testified, he was at a briefing conducted by Col. Oran Henderson who had taken command of the brigade the day before.

Vasquez, now stationed in Germany, holds a lower rank now than he did in 1968 because he left the service for a while, then rejoined.

Lt. Col. Frank A. Barker, the task force commander, was in that meeting, Vasquez said. So was Medina, Calley's immediate superior.

Barker died three months later in a helicopter crash.

Medina emerged from that briefing and gave one of his own to Charley Company, gathered around him in a circle at the Landing Zone Dottie staging area.

"Someone asked if we were supposed to kill women and children and everything," Medina's radio operator, James Errol Flynn, 22, testified.

"What was Capt. Medina's response to that question?"

"He replied, to kill everything that moved," said Flynn, who now works as a pipe fitter in Rochester, Minn.

Judge Reid Kennedy permitted the release of some heretofore confidential documents that had been shown to the six-officer jury while the courtroom was clear of spectators.

proposal to Bearden, but sources said the congressman was carrying out an assignment he received from the delegation as a whole.

The Bearden-Wilson plan appears to have majority support already in the Apportionment Committee. Wilson is vice chairman of the committee. Another member, Sen. Burrell Thompson of Paragould, said Thursday he would back the Bearden-Wilson bill. Bearden said a third member, Sen. Milt Earmhart of Fort Smith, had expressed support also for SB 58. That gives the plan three votes out of the five members on the committee. The other members are Sen. Jim Caldwell of Rogers, chairman, and Sen. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff, who were undecided.

The most likely course is that the committee will report both bills out with no recommendation on which should be approved. Bearden said he was confident of Senate passage.

Walmsley, who was button-holding senators throughout the day Thursday, said he would work vigorously against SB 58, no matter how bleak circumstances seemed.

"Why does Bill Alexander want Independence County rather than Arkansas County — tell me that," Walmsley said to a reporter.

Teachers in Chicago in Agreement

CHICAGO (AP) — The striking Chicago Teachers Union and the Board of Education reached tentative agreement on a new contract today after nearly 12 hours of bargaining in the offices of Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Daley, who had shuttled between separate meeting rooms of the two sides since Thursday afternoon, announced that the contract dispute had been "resolved in the interest of school children."

It was the second time in 20 months that Daley's mediation had brought the two sides together during a strike.

Details of the agreement were to be released later today by the union.

John E. Desmond, union president, said he would recommend acceptance of the terms. Voting by the 20,000 public elementary and high school teachers represented by the union is to take place Sunday.

The city's 533 public schools were to remain closed today. They have an enrollment of more than 577,000.

The union struck Tuesday after rejecting a wage offer calling for 4 per cent increases. The board upped its offer Wednesday to 5 per cent, which the union also turned down.

Jury Quickly Rules for Policeman

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A U.S. District Court jury deliberated 15 minutes Thursday before ruling in favor of a Fayetteville policeman who had been charged in a civil suit with physically abusing a University of Arkansas student.

The suit, filed in behalf of John W. Allegretti, 24, of Wheaton, Ill., originally named three members of the Fayetteville Police Department — Eldon Roberts, Sgt. Earl Lorch and Patrolman Richard Watson — but the action against the latter two was dropped Thursday.

The suit originally sought $20,000 in actual and punitive damages, but ended up seeking only $500 from Roberts, 23.

Allegretti was arrested last April 22 and charged with resisting arrest and obstructing justice. He was found guilty May 12 in Fayetteville Municipal Court of disturbing the peace and fined $54.50.

On Aug. 25, Allegretti filed suit, charging that after he was taken to the police station he was physically abused by the three policemen and suffered a broken nose. He also alleged that he had been deprived of his rights and falsely arrested. He was held in the jail about two hours before being released on $254.50 bond.

Allegretti was arrested about 6 p.m. on April 22 on the parking lot of a Fayetteville supermarket where he allegedly interfered with a dogcatcher who was attempting to catch a dog. The police were summoned by the dogcatcher.

"I have faith in the Army," she said. Hutto, smiling and holding his wife's arm, declined to comment when asked whether testimony at his trial had produced an accurate picture of what happened at the Vietnamese village.

"I'm not going to answer any question about My Lai," he said. "That's all I've got to say about it."

"That's all behind me now. That's in the past." He said he expected to leave the Army by next week, take a job as the manager of an Atlanta ice cream shop and return to school. The soldier has been held in the Army a year past his scheduled separation date. He enlisted in 1967 for three years.

Edward Magill of Miami, Fla., Hutto's civilian lawyer, called the case "an important one—for Charlie Hutto and the Army."

Magill, a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserves, said in his closing statement Thursday the Army's entire system of discipline was on trial with Hutto.

"Think about what you would have if every time a private got an order he stopped to question it," said Magill. "Think about the other Charlie Huttos in the Army."

The defense contended that Hutto entered the tiny hamlet of My Lai intent not on murdering civilians but on following orders he had received from Capt. Ernest Medina, the commander of Charley Company, and other officers.

Witnesses testified during the trial that Medina ordered his soldiers to "kill every living thing in the village."

Col. Kenneth Howard of Atlanta, the military judge, said the testimony left little doubt that Medina gave an illegal order. The question the jury must answer, he said, was whether Hutto knew it was illegal when he fired on the villagers.

President to Join in Dedication

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon joined in the dedication today of a new $15 million Dwight D. Eisenhower National Republican Center on Capitol Hill.

After the ribbon cutting by former First Lady Mamie Eisenhower, Mr. and Mrs. Nixon planned a reception for the GOP national committee.

Although the four-story brick building was unveiled last August, official dedication was put off until the national committee was in Washington for its January meeting to pick a replacement for current chairman Rogers Morton.

The new GOP headquarters building is part of a three-building complex being constructed by the Capitol Hill Associates, a company launched by Republican stockholders.

The building, in addition to housing committee headquarters, contains the Young Republicans Federation, Republican Governors Association, National Federation of Republican Women, GOP National Finance Committee and two divisions of the Republican Congressional Committee.

Candidates for Speaker Strike Out

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The 1971 session of Arkansas legislature is just beginning and already Reps. G. W. "Buddy" Turner Jr. of Pine Bluff and John Miller of Melbourne are seeking support for the speaker's position in the 1973 session of the Arkansas House.

Turner, a member of the House since 1961, said Thursday he had sent letters to his colleagues asking for consideration as a successor to Speaker Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs. Turner said he did not know how many pledges he had, but that his chances of obtaining enough support for speaker "look excellent."

Miller, a member of the House since 1959, said he had received "verbal pledges" from several

House members but that he had not mailed letters to the representatives.

Director of AIDC Submits Resignation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Adrian Williamson Jr. announced today his resignation as executive director of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission. Williamson said his resignation was effective today.

Williamson said the only reason he was resigning was "to respond to an opportunity in the private sector that I feel I can't turn down." He declined to reveal the nature of the job he will take.

He said his resignation "in no way reflects my feeling" toward Gov. Dale Bumpers.

He said he had notified Bumpers a week or so ago that he planned to resign.

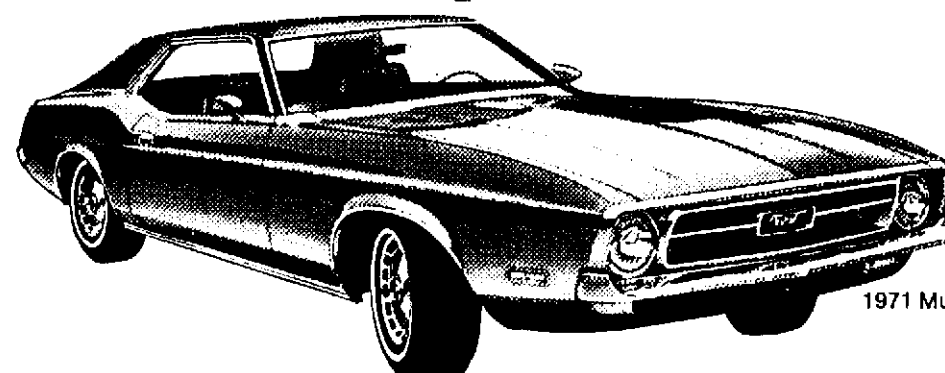

Williamson, 45, had been executive director since September 1969 when he succeeded Robert Millwee. Williamson was vice president of the Commercial National Bank in Little Rock before taking the AIDC position.

He announced his resignation at a meeting of AIDC staff members.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
ap television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television has a tradition, the Bob Hope Christmas show. This year's broadcast, Thursday night on NBC, was almost indistinguishable from those of past years. That's the way it is planned.

Bob's jokes and topical cracks vary with location and the progress of the war, but not much. His troupe was loaded as usual with pretty girls who sing, dance, exchange insults with the star and draw sighs from the audience.

The real stars of the 90-minute program, as usual, were the American servicemen in the audiences. The cameras seemed to focus more often and linger longer this year than usual on their faces. The sights of these men—some audiences numbered 26,000—are the most important and moving ingredients in the unusual program.

Even so, viewers had an opportunity to see almost the whole Hope show, one act at a time as it was played on temporary stages that ranged from the deck of an aircraft carrier to a structure at an airport.

Hope's Christmas show is always one of the most popular programs of the season. Shot under difficult conditions in bits and pieces on an around-the-world trip, it is far from a slick production. But it has heart, warmth and sentiment.

Daytime television—largely soap operas, audience participation shows and reruns of situation comedies—tends to be a reliable if rarely stimulating time killer or work companion.

Occasionally, however, something special—usually unheralded—comes along. Thus it was on Wednesday when Dinah Shore, in her NBC morning series, had Frank Sinatra as her guest.

His assignment was to cook up his favorite tomato sauce for a platter of spaghetti. He did it with the skill and concentration of a male Julia Child, too.

Towel tucked professionally in his belt, Sinatra was in a funny, gracious mood. Miss Shore, at ease with an old friend, handed Frank the onions and slotted spoon on demand. Occasionally they broke into song. It was really a delightful 30 minutes; the food looked good too.

Dinah's show, which started about six months ago with a hectic pace, has simmered down to a truly entertaining, often helpful program.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lingo of Malvern announce the birth of their first child, a girl, on January 10 at the Malvern hospital. She has been named Angela Jo. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lingo of Hope and Mr. and Mrs. Buford Brown of Texarkana.

Michael Eugene Lancaster, Tallulah, Louisiana.

The ceremony will be performed at seven o'clock on the evening of January 23 in the First Presbyterian Church of Hope.

Four states have adopted the rose as their state flower—Georgia, Iowa, New York and North Dakota.

Prospects Depressing for Ph.D's

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The uncertainty of the job market has a new meaning for Ph.D's these days: Prospects Highly Depressing.

In almost every field, jobs are scarce for the hundreds who have studied four to eight years for a doctorate, once an all but certain ticket to academic or professional success. And educators say the forecast for the next decade looks bleak.

"Jobs are tight now and going to remain tight," said Robert L. Farrell, planning officer at the Smithsonian Institution and co-author of an article on the economics and financing of American higher education.

Colleges and universities, citing increasing financial burdens and cutbacks in federal funds for scientific research, are dropping research projects and cutting the curricula.

Golden Age Club members celebrated Christmas with a Christmas tree, and luncheon, Dec. 17 with Rev. Trussell as guest of honor. Some 25 members answered the roll call. "We want to give special thanks to our sponsors, that has made our year a most enjoyable one, which is Kiwanis Club", members of the club said.

Nancy Clancy, who has charge of the American Historical Association's professional register, said she has 245 jobs listed by 175 schools, compared to last year's 403 jobs by 197 schools, a number then considered low.

However, not all areas of history feel the pinch. While there are too many historians specializing in Modern Europe and the United States, said Mrs. Clancy, there are jobs available in African and Asian history.

According to U.S. Office of Education statistics, the number of Ph.D's awarded annually has tripled in the last 10 years from 9829 during the 1959-60 school year to 29,300 in 1969-70.

TARZANA, Calif. (AP) — Last week the Encino-Tarzana branch of the Los Angeles Public Library was the scene of an unusual ceremony.

The complete works of Edgar Rice Burroughs were presented to the library by the author's heirs. To mark the occasion, the 1932 "Tarzan, the Ape Man," starring Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan, was screened.

Said librarian Joyce Burgin: "This gift not only gives us an extensive collection of works by the man who gave Tarzana his name, but will also meet the growing demand for Burroughs' writing."

To Robert Hodes, general manager of Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc., the event had deeper significance.

"This is the first time," he remarked, "that a library system has recognized the value of Burroughs' works."

Always before, he said, the books had been dismissed for "no literary value." For that reason, the Los Angeles library system had banned Burroughs from the shelves until last year.

Other libraries may have had another reason. In 1961, the Downey, Calif., school district banned Tarzan books because of lack of evidence that "Tarzan and his mate Jane were married before they took up house-keeping in the treetops."

"Not true," insisted Hodes in his Tarzana headquarters, once the working place for author Burroughs.

Hodes explained that Tarzan and Jane had parted in the first volume, "Tarzan of the Apes." But the demand of his publisher and the public prompted him to

by Helen Bottel

DOES SHE KNOW HER OWN MIND?

Dear Helen:

I was engaged to Lyman three years ago, but we decided we wouldn't make a go of marriage, so I called it off, but didn't give back his ring.

A few months later, I met the man I'm now married to. I know I'm happier with him than I would have been with Lyman.

A few weeks ago I felt sad for no real reason and started to cry. I called Lyman and asked if anything bad had happened to him (trying to explain to myself why I cried).

After a pleasant conversation he said he was now married. I said I was glad for him and meant it sincerely. He was also happy about my good marriage.

What I'm wondering is: I've been so busy with housekeeping and a job that I neglected giving him his ring back. I don't want to send it through the mails as it might get lost. Should I call and ask to see him so I can return it?

Also, should I give him a wedding present? We don't hold any grudges, and I'd like to think we're still friends. — MRS. HAPPY NOW

Dear Mrs. H.N.:

If you're truly "happy now" don't tempt fate. If you're a bit doubtful (why else would you call Lyman?) don't bait temptation!

Return the ring by mail and get on with your good marriage!

— H.

My sister gets mad at me because I correct her two sons. She won't, so somebody has to, or they'll go completely bad. All she ever says is, "Do you want a spanking?" And then she never follows through so they get away with anything. They swear and run the streets, and talk back to their elders. I dread to think what they'll be like when they are teen-agers. Even their table manners are atrocious.

Their father is no help. Should I continue telling them to straighten up, or let them grow up brats? — BEWILDERED
Dear Bewildered:

Right or wrong, your sister is "the brats'" mother, and an aunt will do more harm than good if she interferes. Butt out! — H.
Dear Helen:

Talking about dirty books, one of your readers said, "If beauty is in the eye of the beholder, then too, dirt is in the mind." I'm glad to know this, as now I won't have to clean my dirty house any more. Those with clean minds won't see the dirt — and who cares about the dirty-minded ones who will? They're too low to count.

If I keep my mind clean so I won't see the dirt either, what a life of ease I will lead! — HOUSEWIFE

Dear Helen:

What do you do when you have just put in beautiful tile floors, and a friend comes to visit with nails in her shoes? After she left there were tiny holes where she had walked — and she comes often! Maybe it's just one nail, but it could do a lot of damage. — SWEATING IT OUT

Dear SIO:

Next time she visits, suggest a shoe inspection. If she's a good friend, she'll eliminate the nail and be glad you saved your floors. — H.

reunite the pair in "The Return of Tarzan." Hodes quoted from page 363 of the second book: "They were married by Jane's father, an ordained minister."

Hodes seems oddly cast as keeper of the Burroughs traditions. He wears mod clothes, a love-symbol necklace and full beard. He admits having never read a Tarzan book and scarcely knowing the name Edgar Rice Burroughs before he became attorney for the enterprises in 1962.

Later, he was placed in charge by Hulbert Burroughs, son of the author, who bought a ranch in this San Fernando valley suburb in 1919 and died in 1950.

Last night in Jones Field House the Kittycats defeated the Bears of Bradley by a 39 to 23 margin. The Hope Ladycats were defeated by a score of 85-47. G. G. Gladney put Hope on the board by taking the opening tipoff and driving for an easy layup. After a rugged first quarter, Bradley had slipped to a one point lead.

With 5:20 left in the second period, Corney Coleman hit a free shot to make the score 15-14. Hopes favor. Hope never trailed after that charity shot. Using slick ball handling and working for the easy shot the Kittycats once again proved to be winners.

Gladney of Hope led all scorers with 19 points followed by Corney Coleman with 12. Jill Herring had six and Pogo Griffin with 2. Leading scorer for Bradley was Hinds with 11 points.

In the second game of the night the Ladycats had a tough time controlling the near perfect shooting of Bradley.

With just 20 seconds gone in the first period, Moccus of Bradley hit from the top of the key to put Bradley ahead by two. Dee Singleton came right back with a shot from the corner to tie the game 2-2. The rest of the quarter was a shooting duel with Bradley hitting on more of their shots.

At the end of the first quarter the scoreboard showed Hope 13, Bradley 24. With 20 seconds gone in the second period Singleton hit a charity shot. After that Hope hit a cold streak. Then with 30 seconds left in the half McCain hit a free shot ending the half with the score Bradley 36, Hope 22.

After the halftime break, Bradley showed to be as hot as they were in the first half. By the end of the third quarter they had already jumped to a 61-36 lead.

The fourth saw bad breaks for Hope that turned out to be big advantages for Bradley. They turned almost all of the turnovers into points.

Leading scorer for Hope was Janet McCain with 19 points. Hodden and Singleton followed with 13 points each.

Leading scorer for Bradley was Moccus with 26 points.

Mrs. King Was Almost Bounced In 1st Round

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The tennis tournament bears her name, is being played in her hometown at a recreation center named after her, and Billie Jean King almost got bounced in the first round. But not quite.

The aggressive 27-year-old brunette, top-seeded in the $14,000 Billie Jean King Invitational, was on her way to losing her second set 2-5 to Francoise Guerin Thursday when she retained her old net-slugging

PORTLAND, Maine—Walter Opshinsky vs. Art Young bout canceled, snowstorm.

LOS ANGELES—Al Stankie, 159, Los Angeles, outpointed Victor Manuel Basilio, 160, Brawley, Calif., 10.

Defense, Defense! Such was the case Thursday night in the Henderson State tournament for the Hope Bobcats.

Using the aid of blocked shots and fairly good domination of the backboards, the Bobcats raised their season record to 9-3 with an impressive win over the Whitehall Bulldogs, 66-37, in the second round of tournament play.

Hope travels back today for a 3:15 battle with Stamps.

Taking the opening tipoff, the Bobcats scored first on a jump-shot by John Dudley, and seconds later after Parker Powell chipped in a field goal and Lynn Norton had connected on a free throw, Whitehall took a time out trailing 5-1.

Back in play, Dudley hit two field goals and Powell hit a 15 footer for an 11-3 margin.

Setting up under the goal, Dudley hit six straight points and Norton added four, including a beautiful hook shot with 59 seconds left, to dart out in front at the end of the first period, 21-9.

Now, both teams went cold, with Whitehalls' Bill Holden hitting the only points for the first three minutes.

Suddenly the Bobcats came back alive, burning the net quickly for 11 points in two minutes, with Dudley and Powell getting four each.

Dudley's layup with 13 seconds showing on the clock gave the big Cats a 34-17, halftime lead.

Again the Cats received the tipoff and again they scored quickly, this time on a three point play by Powell, to stretch the lead out to 20 points.

Followup goals by Powell, Dudley, and David Briggs set Hope up with a 43-21 margin and seconds later another Bobcat score sent the Bulldogs into a timeout session with 3:00 left in the third period.

Later, with 36 seconds showing, Powell hit both ends of a one and one situation, for a 49-28 lead, moving into the last form.

Mrs. King took control from the French star in the third set to win the match 4-6, 7-6, 6-1.

In another match before a near-capacity crowd of 2,000, 5-foot-2 Rosemary Casals of San Francisco beat Australian Karen Krantzke, who is a full foot taller, 6-2, 6-2, 7-6.

Mrs. King today faces Stephanie Johnson, who beat Darlene Hard in the first round, and Miss Casals goes against Mary Ann Eisel Curtis, who downed Peaches Bartkowicz.

Garland Falls to Mineral Springs

Mineral Springs scored 66 points in the second half to overcome a halftime deficit and defeat Garland 96 to 64 Thursday night in the Saratoga Invitational Tournament.

Five players scored in double figures for the tournament favorites. Steve Clark led with 25 points, followed by Jimmy Hopkins with 20, Edwin Piggee and Rick Bell had 14 each and Nath Green tossed in 12. Bob Davis of Garland took game honors with 28 points and his teammate, Jim Block had 14.

The win moved Mineral Springs into the semifinals against Genoa Central at 10 a.m. Saturday.

In other games Thursday Saratoga's boys defeated Spring Hill 81 to 38. The victory also advanced the host team to the semifinals.

Five Saratoga boys also scored in the double figure column. Dale Fincher had 24, Charles Caldwell 14, Kenny Olden 12, Howard Stuart 11 and Doug Muldrow 10. Bill Smith paced Spring Hill with 10.

The Fouke girls eliminated Saratoga's girls 44 to 39. Ramona Crabtree had 26 points and Guinn Tarey 12 for the winners. Julie McCormick tossed in 18 for Saratoga and Dora Poindexter 16.

Friday night's action pairs Mineral Springs and Genoa Central girls at 7 p.m. and Blevins and the Nashville boys at 8:15.

period of play.

With a few of the reserves coming in now, Hope still kept up the scoring with a 17 point last quarter.

For the first couple of minutes Hope was cold, but Ron McWilliams and John McLary scored for the Bulldogs, to pull within 16.

However, four points by Norton, two by Briggs, and a Charity throw by Bilp Rowland, upped the Bobcats' lead to 56-33, with 2:54 left to play.

Getting a Whitehall rebound, the dribbling of Ronnie Massanelli set up a fine net-popping goal by James Bradley and seconds later Tim White hit two points for a 60-35 score with 4:41 left.

With 29 seconds left, after Buddy Ingram sunk two points, Roger Newton drove in for a layup and the Bobcats' final points.

Dudley hit 23 for Hope, followed by Powell netting 17. Norton popping in 10, and Briggs and Newton each hitting four. Randy Strawn hit 12 for Whitehall.

In another game, the Bobkittens were clipped by Prescott, 48-43, for their sixth loss against five victories.

After Jimmy Smith and Marshall Scott moved Hope out in front 3-2, Randolph Vanhook hit six straight points for Prescott and an 8-3 lead.

David Huddleston and Gary Rhodes hit the only other points of the quarter, as the Kittens went into the second period, trailing 13-8.

Hitting a free throw with only 27 played, Bud Martin pulled Hope to within six, but a very cold streak could only get the Kittens five points as the first half ended, 23-14, Prescott leading.

Scoring early in the second half, Prescott continued to maintain their lead.

After Rhodes hit a free shot with 3:03 left in the third quarter, Hope trailed 33-19. Now, with both teams not able to find the range, the quarter ended with Hope trailing 34-24.

After the tipoff, Huddleston and Scott both hit goals to pull within six, but a minute later Prescott led by 12. Led by Huddleston, a Kitten comeback then fell short.

Huddleston hit 14 points and Rhodes had 10, while Vanhook hit 15 for the Curley Wolves.

Hope won the eighth grade game easily, 36-30, for a present 2-0 record, after a win over Mineral Springs.

Mike Hobson hit 12 points, and Jim Rhodes and Eugene Tyree both had eight each.

Countdown Is on for Super Bowl

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — The countdown to Super Bowl V accelerated today for the Baltimore Colts and Dallas Cowboys, but the big buildup inherent in previous summit scraps remained conspicuous by its absence.

In contrast to the bruhaha that preceded each of the four AFL-NFL confrontations, the main conversation piece as the Colts and Cowboys began final preparation for Sunday's championship showdown was the physical status of Walt Garrison, No. 2 wheel in Dallas' dynamic running game.

Through no fault of their own, the Super Bowl foes have the look of a pair of Crusaders with no Holy War to fight.

The Colts, led by incomparable Johnny Unitas, will be out to atone for their upset loss to the New York Jets in Super Bowl III two years ago.

The Cowboys will be out to prove, once and for all, that they are capable of winning the Big Game. And both teams will be out to claim the winner's shares of $15,000 per player.

But the open hostilities of the AFL-NFL battles have been missing. Baltimore and Dallas were allies, under the NFL banner, until merger and realignment put them in opposing camps last season. Neither has an axe to grind in the name of league prestige.

"No, I don't want to win it for the old AFC," said Billy Rae Smith, 35-year-old war horse of the Colts' defensive unit. "I'd like to win it for old B. R. and the Colts."

The Colts' hopes will be riding on the 37-year-old arm of Unitas, whose charisma has been dominant during the week building up to the game.

Dallas will counter Unitas' passing with the league's most potent ground attack, a ball control force led by super rookie Duane Thomas—and Garrison, if he's healthy. The Cowboys' stocky fullback came out of the NFC title game against San Francisco two weeks ago with a sprained ankle and chipped collarbone.

"I would think Garrison will start," Cowboys' Coach Tom Landry said Thursday. "He's been running with Thomas in our first unit."

"We would have been in bad shape if we only had one week to prepare for Baltimore. We had six players who might not have been able to play."

Both clubs tapered off for three days in balmy, 80-degree weather. The forecast for Sunday calls for partly-cloudy skies, temperatures in the 70s and northerly winds up to 15 miles per hour.

The Cowboys, who developed a fun-in-football approach for the first time in their checkered history while reeling off seven straight victories to nail the NFC title, have been training at a leisurely pace in Ft. Lauderdale.

"We've been working out in an atmosphere of vacation," Landry said, "but you wouldn't know it by the players."

The Colts, who shifted to the AFC in last year's realignment and captured the conference title on the heels of a six-game winning streak, have been strictly business all week at their Miami Lakes hideaway. They blame their 16-7 Super Bowl loss to the Jets in part to the "carnival atmosphere" of their 1969 training base.

There is no question in my mind that we'll be physically and mentally ready to play Sunday," said veteran offensive tackle Bob Vogel.

In line with the low-key attitude each team has taken toward the upcoming collision, there have been no "guaranteed" victory such as the one Jet ace Joe Namath made good against the Colts.

"No predictions," said Dallas quarterback Craig Morton, who has recovered from an elbow injury and a laryngitis attack under the hot Florida sun. "We're not a talking team."

"If I had a crystal ball," said Baltimore middle linebacker Mike Curtis, "I'd go out and bet the horses."

ASU, Texas, LSU Coaches Honored

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

HOUSTON (AP) — A season that ran the gamut from tragedy to ecstasy to heartbreak climaxed in the thrill of a lifetime Thursday night for Louisiana State's Charlie McClendon when he won coach of the year honors from his fellow football coaches.

Actually, the popular Cholly Mac shared the American Football Coaches Association's coach of the year honor in the university division with Darrell Royal of Texas, who became the first ever to win the major college award twice.

Bennie Ellender of Arkansas State's small college national champions captured the college division award. Ellender has since taken over as head coach at Tulane.

The awards dinner capped the AFCA's 49th annual convention.

"We had to come from below the floor to rise to the heights we did," said McClendon, who guided LSU to a 9-2 regular season record before a bitter 17-12 loss to national champion Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

LSU's season hit the depths two weeks before it even started with the shocking death of quarterback Butch Dube from a floating cyst on the brain.

"I'll never forget it," said McClendon. "He had been suffering from headaches and they became so excruciating that I wouldn't let him practice. I laid him down in the training room. They took him to the hospital and an hour later they told me I better get over there. By the time I got there he had expired. Breaking the news to his parents was the toughest thing I've ever had to do."

A stunned LSU team then dropped a 20-18 last-minute decision in its opening game against Texas A&M. Next came seven

First Round 3-Way Tie in Crosby Meet

By ERIC PREWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Tom Shaw compared himself to Arnold Palmer as he discussed his winless 1970 season on the professional golf tour.

"I kept thinking I'd win a tournament. But, just like Arnold, I ran out of tournaments," said the 28-year-old blond from Oregon after shooting a four-under-par 68 Thursday to share the first round lead with Bobby Nichols and Terry Dill in the $135,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am Championship.

Palmer, the game's all-time leading money winner, also went without a tournament victory in 1970. But with $128,000 in prize money, the year was no disaster.

Shaw won the Doral Open and Avco Classic in 1969 and totaled $83,332 in winnings. But a reversal in his fairway fortunes last year made him one of the tour's second class citizens — a non-exempt player. He was 68th on the money list, with $34,004 in 1970.

"There was no big change in my game. My scores were just too high," he said Thursday after his sub-par round at the 6,464-yard Cypress Point course.

Nichols, who made his 1970 season with a $60,000 first-place check in the Dow Jones Open, also played his opening round at Cypress, the shortest of the three courses used in the Crosby. Dill's 68 was at the four-year old Spyglass Hill course and was the best round ever at the 6,972-yard course in Crosby competition.

Shaw, Nichols and Dill were one stroke ahead of veteran Howie Johnson. At 70 were Gene Littler, Rik Massengale, Lefty Gene Ferrell and Argentina's Roberto de Vicenzo.

Jack Nicklaus, who passed up last week's season-opening tournament in Los Angeles, started 1971 with a 72 at Cypress.

The Ohioan, whose five 1970 titles included the British Open, was bunched with Palmer, Masters champion Billy Casper and several others at even par.

Shaw and Nichols had early tee times Thursday and played most of their rounds when the weather was warm and calm on the ocean side courses. Blustery winds moved in later in the day. Shaw made two big birdie putts, from 25 and 30 feet. Nichols outdid him, however, with putts of 40 and 45 feet for two of his six birds.

"A putter can make a race-horse out of a mule," said Nichols, whose chances of holding the lead alone were killed when he put a three-iron shot into the Pacific on No. 17 and took a double bogey six.

Dill played most of his round in the afternoon but Spyglass is the least windy of the three Crosby courses. The Texan, who has never won a tournament in nine years on the tour, ignored the wind on the 14th hole by holing out with a nine-iron from 112 yards for an eagle three.

Shaw, trying hard not to run out of tournaments this year, also was a first round leader last week at Los Angeles. He finished the tourney with a 282, and by going 72 holes he spared himself the agony of going out with the "rabbits" this Monday to qualify for a spot in the Crosby.

Fans Like the Style of Running Hogs

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Apparently, basketball fans like the high-scoring Arkansas Razorbacks.

The "Running Razorbacks," in their first year under Coach Lanny Van Eman, are scoring at a record clip of 83.6 points a game and drawing fans, too. The school scoring record is 75.6 points a game.

The Razorbacks have drawn 26,200 persons in seven home games compared to less than 24,000 who attended Arkansas' nine home games last year.

The attendance figure was boosted by a record crowd of 5,600 that jammed into Barnhill Fieldhouse last Saturday for Arkansas' Southwest Conference opener with Texas. The size of the crowd caught officials by surprise and concession stands ran out of soft drinks and hot dogs before the varsity game began.

Bobby Vint Simply Tired of Losing

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Bobby Vint waited a long time to unleash his offensive talents.

In his fifth year at the University of Arkansas, the 6-8 North Little Rock product has scored 47 points in the Razorbacks' first two Southwest Conference games of 1971. Vint averaged six points a game in his first two seasons.

Vint scored 26 points against Texas Saturday in the league opener and came back with 21 against Texas Tech at Lubbock Tuesday. Unfortunately, both performances came in losing efforts.

"I'm tired of losing," Vint said. "We play Rice Saturday and we really need to win."

"It doesn't mean a whole lot to me when I score a lot and we don't win," he said. "Coach (Lanny) Van Eman is to nice of a guy to lose for."

Vint attributes the two best scoring games of his career to getting his shots away quicker. "I've had people around me when I get the ball so I have to shoot it as quick as possible," Vint said.

In both conference games, opposing coaches have attempted to wear the 205-pounder down by substituting frequently. It hasn't stopped Vint.

He held three Texas post men to a total of eight points and stopped a pair of Texas Tech Red Raiders with nine points. In both games, the opposing players all got into foul trouble covering Vint's short jumpers and hook shots.

When Van Eman took over the Arkansas position last spring, he told Vint he would have to lose weight. Vint quickly shed 25 pounds.

"I quit eating and worked out all summer," Vint said. "I was going to summer school and working at the Fayetteville Boys Club. I could work out there and also put in a few miles a day running."

Field of 12 in Racing Super Bowl

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Who will win the Super Bowl? maybe Silent Screen. Perhaps Lion Sleeps.

These colts are among a prospective field of 12 for the six-furlong, $25,000-added Super Bowl Handicap at Hialeah's opening Saturday, the day before the Super Bowl football game.

Silent Screen, winner of more than $500,000 in two seasons of racing, will carry 122 pounds, two less than the top-weighted Lion Sleeps. Silent Screen is owned by Sonny Werblin, who once owned the New York Jets but not when they upset the Baltimore Colts in the Super Bowl game two years ago.

Lion Sleeps, owned by Cleestino Dilibero and winner of his last four starts including the Coral Gables Handicap and the New Year's Handicap, also will be giving weight to such runners of Fence Post Farm's Corn off the Cob, 121; Herbert Allen's Distinctive, 120, and Calumet Farm's Best Turn, 119.

Frank McMahon's Jungle Savage, winner of the Palos Verdes Handicap two weeks ago, heads a probable field of six in the seven-furlong, $50,000-added San Carlos Handicap for 4-year-olds and up at Santa Anita.

Jungle Savage will carry 120 pounds, three less than he did in winning the Palos Verdes. Cain Hoy Stable's Ack Ack, who carried 129 in the Palos Verdes, gets top weight of 126 for the San Carlos.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Bum, winner of his last three starts, and about seven other 3-year-olds are expected to contest in six-furlong, $27,500-added Challedon Stakes at Pimlico. Others include Horace W. Dietrich Jr.'s Just Groovin and George Arrowsmith's Wild Amber.

Another horse on a streak, Briardale Farm's 5-year-old Ad Majora, winner of four straight, is expected to carry high weight of 130 pounds against six opponents, including Colonial Farm's Champion, 123, in the 1-16-mile, $25,000-added Germantown Handicap at Liberty Bell.

Bruins Are Changing Name of Game

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins are changing the name of hockey to "shoot, shoot, shoot." They're trigger happy and it's paying off handsomely in the National Hockey League race.

Phil Esposito, a veteran center, and Bobby Orr, the spectacular defenseman, are the two key marksmen in the Boston shooting gallery and they showed how it should be done Thursday night in a 9-5 victory over the Los Angeles Kings.

Esposito set a modern day record with his fifth "hat trick" and added three assists in his league scoring lead to 84 points. Orr, runnerup to Esposito, collected four assists to boost his output to 70 points.

Esposito brought a shower of hats after his third goal in the second period. The NHL record for the most hat tricks in a season is seven, set by Joe Malone in 1917-18. The modern record was four set by Maurice Richard in 1946-47, and later tied by Jean Beliveau, Bobby Hull and Frank Mahovlich.

"I had all kinds of chances out there tonight and for a while I didn't think I'd ever get that third one," Esposito said after firing his 39th, 40th and 41st goals in just 42 games.

Esposito once again credited linemates Ken Hodge and Wayne Cashman, along with Orr, for his success.

Esposito appears to be a cinch to break the NHL record of 126 points he set in 1968-69. He was runnerup last season as Orr became the first defenseman ever to win the Ross Trophy as scoring champion with 120 points.

Esposito had 10 shots on goal and Orr six as the Bruins bettered their average of nearly 42 per game with a blistering 48. Los Angeles had 37, many from outside.

"There were a lot of shots out there tonight," Boston Coach Tom Johnson said. "That's what we believe in, shooting. The more shots, the more chances for goals."

Wayne Carleton scored Boston's first two goals, his first since Oct. 22. Fred Stanfield, Johnny McKenzie, Cashman and Hodge were the other scorers as the Bruins regained their one-point lead over the New York Rangers in the hot duel for the East Division lead.

In other games, Philadelphia whipped Toronto 3-0; Buffalo beat St. Louis 2-1; Pittsburgh and Detroit played to a 2-2 tie and Montreal tied Minnesota 3-3.

Cliff Schmeitz scored the game's first goal, a shot from the blue line with 24 seconds gone, and the Flyers went on to whip the red-hot Maple Leafs, who suffered only their second loss in 17 games.

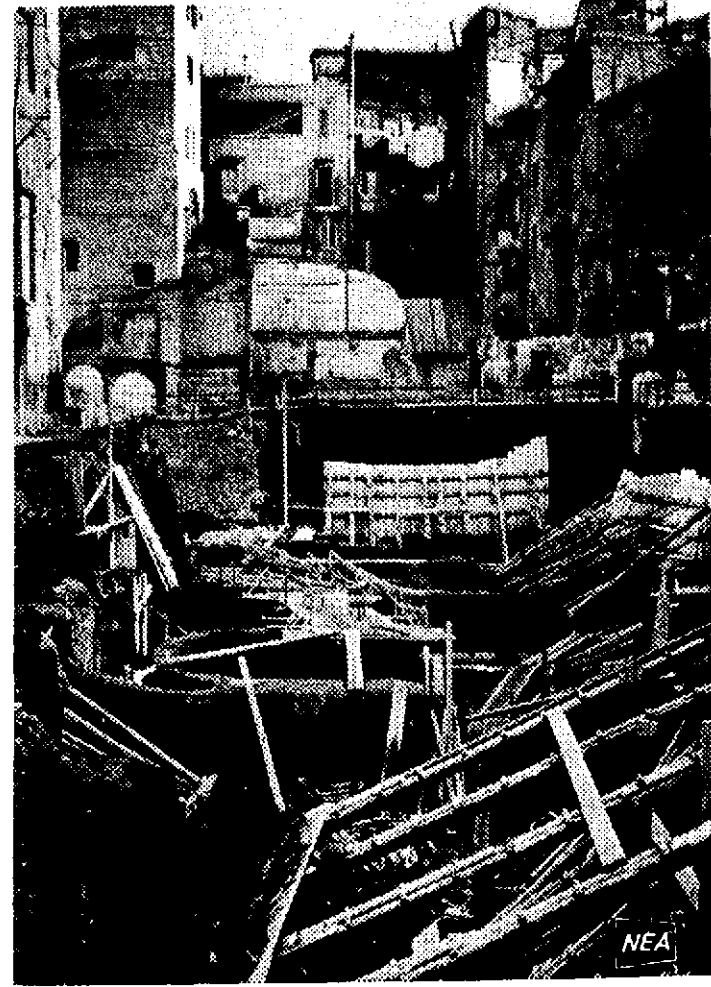

Phil Goyette scored both Buffalo goals as the Sabres downed the Blues. Goyette, picked up from St. Louis in the draft, fired in a first-period goal and whipped in the winning marker at 8:08 of the third stanza.

Jean Pronovost scored on a penalty shot at 12:23 of the third period to give Pittsburgh its tie with the Red Wings. Pronovost was pulled down by Bill Collins and referee Bruce Hood called for a penalty shot and the flashy forward fired the puck past goalie Roy Edwards.

A Change in Personality May Be Medical Problem

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I am writing about my husband who is 70, and for quite a few years now he is very hateful and very mean. It has become unbearable. Most of his meanness is taken out on me, politics and some personalities. I try to ignore some of his remarks but that only makes him worse. He eats good, sleeps good; he doesn't drink alcohol. Could it be that he has hardening of the arteries to the brain? This is a miserable way to spend your later years in life. I am 69. I wonder if he could take something to calm him down so we could have some peace once in awhile.

Dear Reader—There are a number of reasons why an individual's personality may change in later years. One cause certainly is disease of the arteries to the brain. We see a lot of people with strokes, for example, who are completely changed, sometimes using foul language when they never did before and flying into a rage. It is a pity and it is one of the aspects of artery disease that people often overlook. Too often people think only of living well or suddenly having a heart attack or stroke with sudden death. That is a myth. Many people have problems of the type you describe and that is not living well.

Some people can be helped for problems of this nature. Rarely is a disease in the arteries correctable. In other instances medicine can be given to calm a person down, when in older people what they need is a stimulant. The stimulant counteracts the anxiety and depression that causes the problem to begin with. The depressed state causes the anxiety and apparent nervousness. The difference is in being sure if you are treating a depression occurring with age or true anxiety and nervousness on another basis. The medicines needed are just the opposite. You might discuss this with your doctor and see if a different medical approach will help.

The same thing often happens in older people with regard to sleep. The usual phenobarbital preparations or similar sleeping pills actually agitate the person and they can't sleep. Apparently, with the disease of the arteries and aging process, the brain really needs a boost in circulation or a stimulus to brain cell action to function normally.

I am glad to see that you do recognize that your husband really has a medical problem. When a loved one is sick he needs help from those close to them. This is particularly true when behavior is involved. It is very trying but providing help and support in these circumstances is a real act of love.

"You are on the National Laws Commission," said our old friend, the unlucky expert. "You have abolished honors in duplicate play. When are you going to get rid of this anachronism in rubber bridge?"

The answer to that question is that honors will probably remain in rubber bridge forever. North America might want to eliminate them but somehow or other we don't believe that Europe will ever go along.

Now let's look at the hand that caused his latest outburst. He sat North and would have had no trouble making his no-trump game with at least one overtrick.

Playing at four hearts, South lost no time going one down when West opened his singleton spade. East took ace and returned the queen. South played his king. West ruffed and led back the 10 of diamonds whereupon South had no way to keep East from scoring tricks with the king of diamonds and another high spade.

Do you see how South could have made his contract in spite of the defense? It wouldn't have been at all difficult. He should have let East's queen of spades hold the second trick. East would have been unable to do anything better than to lead another spade.

West would still ruff South's king and still shift to the 10 of diamonds, but it would not have done him any good.

South would have gone right up with dummy's ace. Then he would lead another spade and ruff it high. After that it would have been easy to draw trumps, enter dummy with the king of clubs and discard the queen of diamonds on the fifth spade.

Bombing Is Condemned in England
LONDON (AP) — Foes of the Conservative government's labor reform bill joined government supporters today in condemning the bombing of Employment Minister Robert Carr's home.
"Absolutely outrageous," said Barbara Castle, who held Carr's job under the Labor government.
"Anyone who could even attempt this sort of thing is nothing short of a stupid lunatic," said Victor Feather, general secretary of the Trades Union Congress.
Other leaders—government, opposition and labor union—echoed their anger.
Two time bombs, one at the back door and one at the front, tore through the ground floor of Carr's suburban home Tuesday night. The bombing came during a 24-hour, Communist-inspired strike against the pending labor legislation. About 150,000 workers heeded the strike call, mostly on the docks and in the automobile industry.
Carr, his wife and their 13-year-old daughter were not injured.
Scotland Yard assigned extra guards to all Cabinet members. Army experts attributed the blasts to plastic explosives with timing devices.
Carr's wife said she had left the kitchen minutes before the first explosion ripped the back door from its hinges and rocketed pieces of lumber and furniture through the room.
"One thing I am quite sure about is that the great majority of trade unionists, however op-

Commonwealth System Is Endangered

By MORT ROSENBLUM
Associated Press Writer
SINGAPORE (AP) — The prime minister of Singapore told government leaders of the 30 other nations of the British Commonwealth today that failure to agree on the question of British arms sales to South Africa could lead to the destruction of the Commonwealth system.
"If in the end consensus is not possible, we shall have to decide whether we can agree to disagree," Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew said at the start of a nine-day Commonwealth summit conference, the first held outside London.

"If we cannot contain our present differences over the proposed arms sales, then it is unlikely that the Commonwealth, as presently constituted, can long endure."

The plans of Britain's Conservative government to resume arms sales to the white-supremacist government in South Africa is the stormiest question facing the conference. Some African nations have threatened to quit the Commonwealth or take economic sanctions against Britain if the arms deal goes through.
British Prime Minister Edward Heath stuck to his guns on the eve of the conference, saying during a stopover in Malaysia that Britain must help South Africa counter a steadily mounting Soviet naval threat in the Indian Ocean.

In drawing up the conference agenda, senior delegates tried to avoid an immediate clash over the South African arms question by making it the fourth item to be discussed, behind such topics as the world economic situation and the future of the Commonwealth. But there were reports that Zambia and other opponents of the arms deal might press for an earlier discussion of the question.

As the leaders assembled for the opening meeting, Heath sat stone-faced by himself. Other prime ministers and presidents chatted animatedly around the 25-foot oval table in the Singapore Conference Hall, a modernistic, teak-fronted building overlooking the booming port.
The chief absentees are Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, who is getting ready for an election campaign; President Agha Mohamed Yahya Khan of Pakistan, who is trying to get his country's new national assembly organized; President Jomo Kenyatta of Kenya, who is too old to fly; President Yakubu Gowon of Nigeria and Prime Minister Eric Williams of Trinidad-Tobago. They sent senior Cabinet ministers.

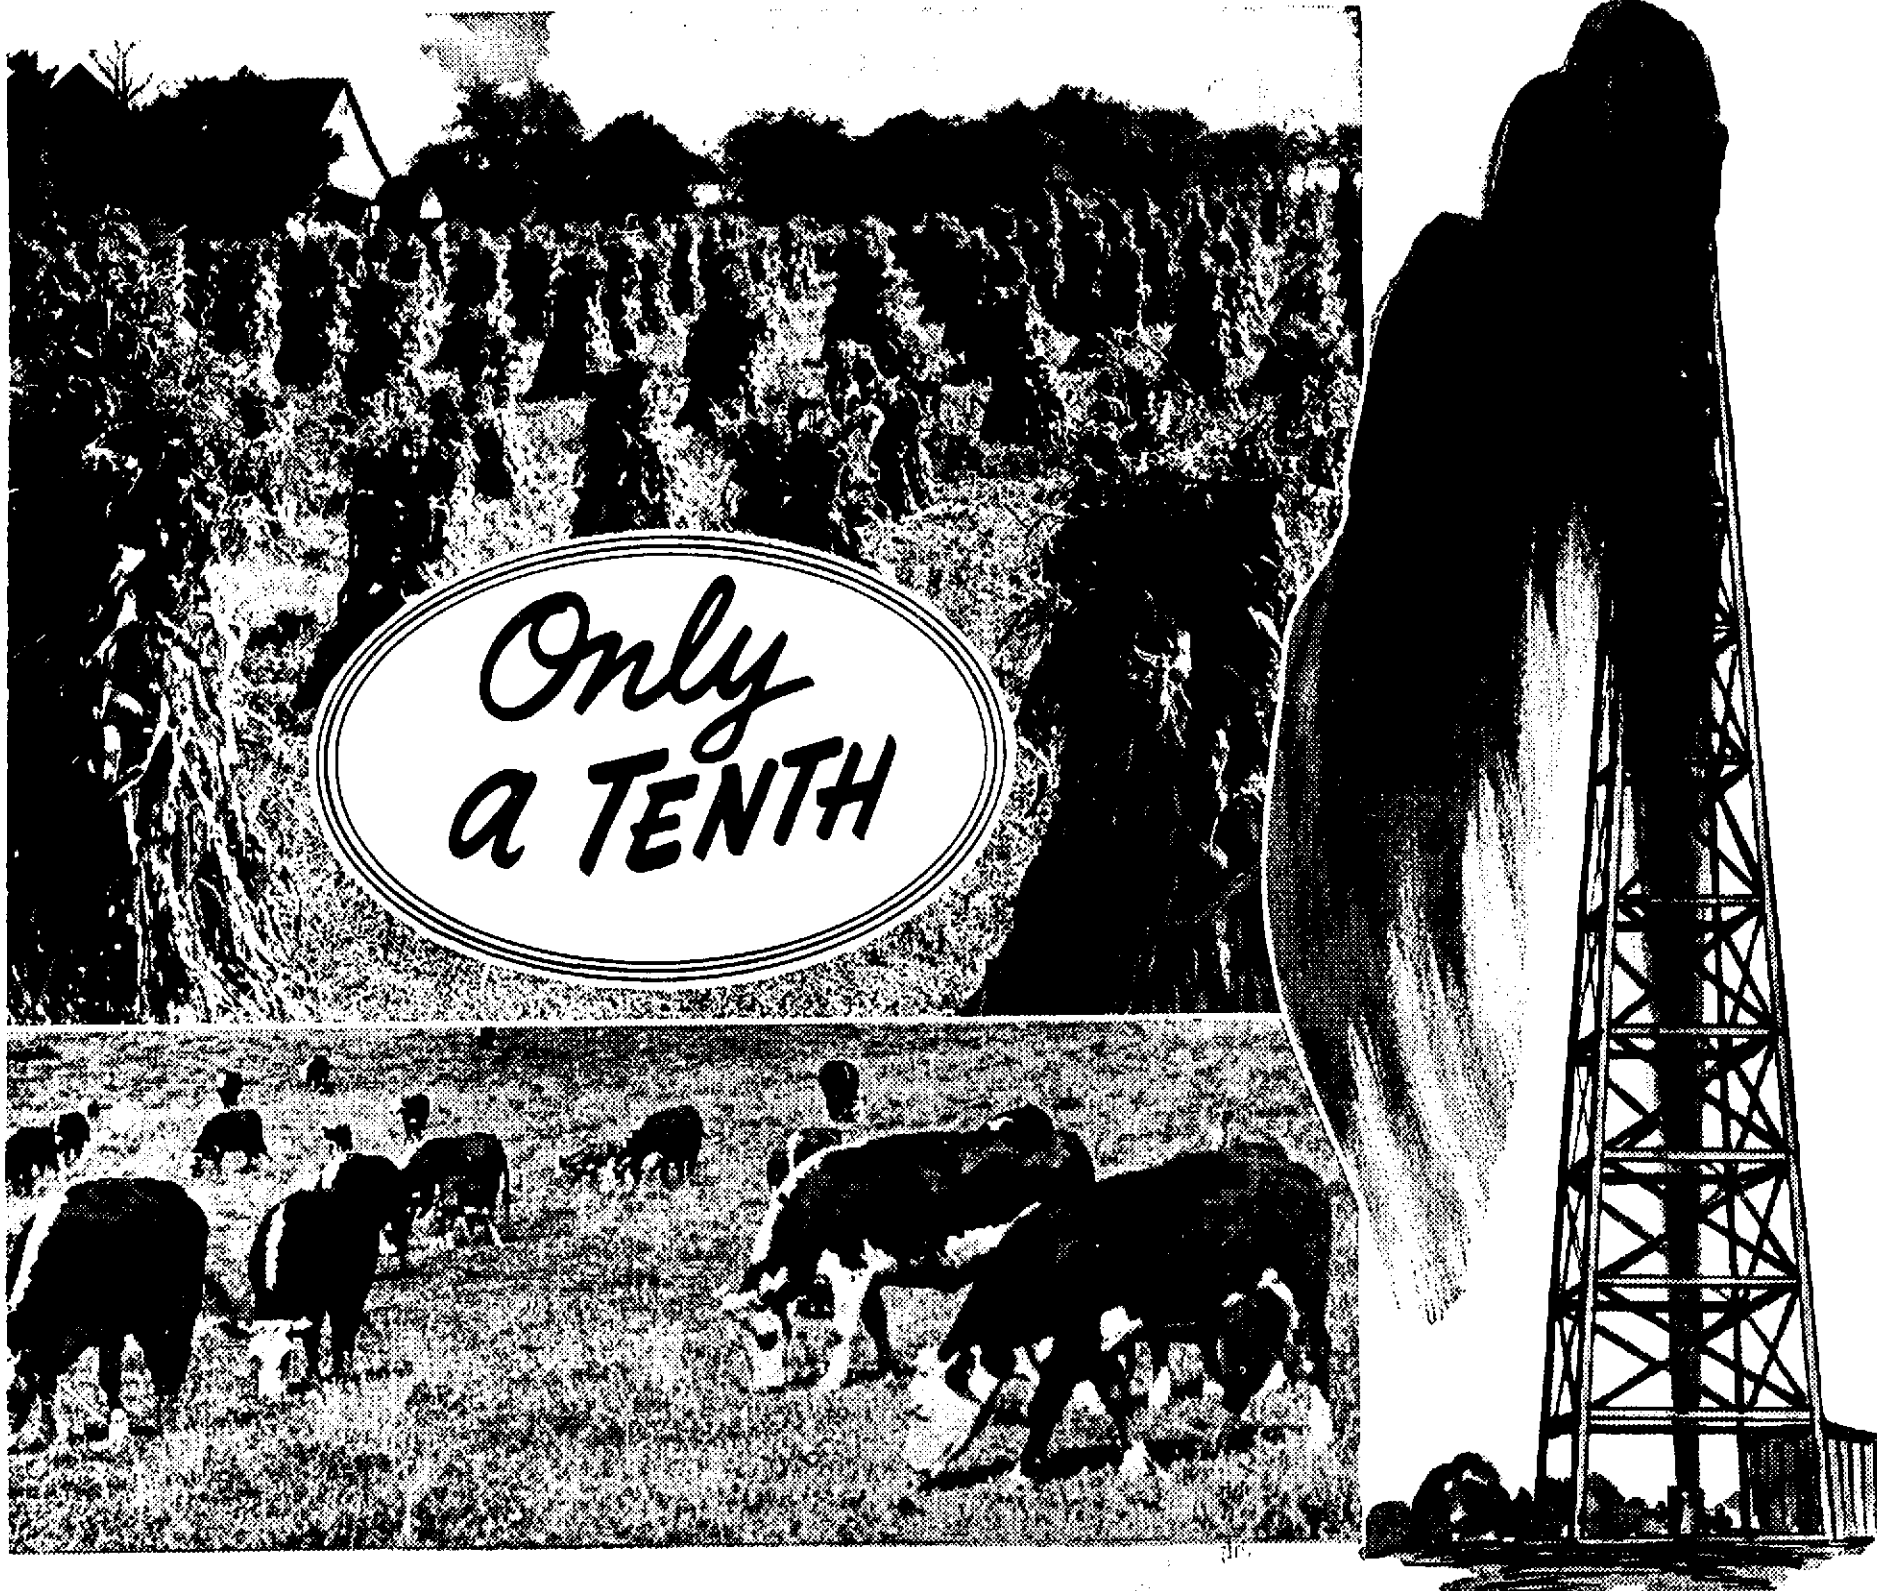

posed to my bill, would certainly have no part in anything of this kind," Carr, 55, told newsmen.

The giant Trades Union Congress had urged its members to ignore the strike call and restrict their protests Tuesday to orderly meetings during their lunch and tea breaks.
Carr's bill, which the House of Commons approved in principle last month, seeks to end wildcat strikes by authorizing legally enforceable contracts and setting up 60-day cooling-off periods before strikes.

"What shall I render unto the Lord for all His benefits?" (Psalms 116:12). Every man of earnest and serious mind must ask himself this question as he meditates on the goodness and the Grace of God toward him. We want to do what is right in our every association with God and man. The Government takes as its proper share at least twenty per cent of every man's income. WHAT IF GOD SHOULD REACH DOWN INTO YOUR LIFE AND MINE AND TAKE WHAT REALLY BELONGS TO HIM? How much would be left for us? Have you raised corn? Or did you and God work together in making the corn crop? And just which of you put more time and energy into the process? Have you "struck" oil? Who spent centuries creating the oil and holding it in the underground lake until you came along? Is the oil really all yours? What is God's share? YOU AND GOD ARE PARTNERS IN THE OIL BUSINESS; WHAT IS HIS PORTION?

Jesus Christ is our revelation of the generosity of God who has been the eternal Giver, enriching us with every sort of good thing. From the day of the first creation God has been at work with and for man. Each of us represents in his body and in his soul the everlasting toil of God, who truly wants to make us His children and who desires us to join Him in making an ever better world for His sons and daughters to live in. JESUS IS OUR PATTERN OF WHAT A MAN CAN GIVE TO HELP IN THE PURPOSE OF GOD. HOW MUCH DID JESUS GIVE BACK TO GOD?

Jewish and Christian people have agreed that we ought to give at least a tenth of our income to God and His Church for the carrying on of His redemptive program. A tenth will not necessarily discharge all our debt, but it will show a sense of deep gratitude. Everything is His, even the cattle of a thousand hills and the abundant harvest from the fields. He gives us everything which makes life abundant. Our ideal is to join in the prayer, "Take my life and let it be consecrated, Lord to Thee." Let's be good partners with God. Let us be His co-workers. MAY WE GLADLY GIVE BACK TO HIM AT LEAST A TENTH OF WHAT HE SO FREELY GIVES US."

Letters

To The Editor

This year newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801.

All letters must be signed, with address so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

APPRECIATES GIFTS

Editor The Star: On behalf of the patients and staff of Benton State Hospital, I wish to express appreciation to the people of Hope and Hempstead County for a giant trailer-truckload of clothing and gifts collected for distribution to the patients at Benton State Hospital. This collection was made in November and December 1970, principally through the efforts of Sheriff Jimmy Griffin, Fire Chief Jim Cobb, the Hope Chief of Police, and other interested persons to whom we are extremely grateful.

It was delivered to the Benton State Hospital just before Christmas and helped to a great extent to brighten the Holiday Season for our patients. The variety of clothing and materials included will be of great assistance toward the fulfilling of the clothing needs of our patients throughout this year. We are truly grateful to the people of Hope and Hempstead County for this effort and interest on their part. Yours sincerely,

Walter S. Mizell, M.D.

Carolina Pace Too Quick for Opposition

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Carolina's in the driver's seat going like 60—and the pace is a little too quick for the opposition.

Hitting a torrid 60 per cent from the floor, the Carolina Cougars roared past the Floridians 133-103 in the American Basketball Association Thursday night.

Joe Caldwell scored 36 points and Randy Mahaffey had 23 as the crack-shooting Cougars carved out a 16-point lead in the third period, and refused to fold before several Floridian charges.

In other ABA games, Pittsburgh blasted Kentucky 122-111 and Utah trimmed Memphis 116-102.

In the National Basketball Association, it was Los Angeles 126, Cincinnati 120; Chicago 108, Philadelphia 103; Buffalo 119, Portland 113; Detroit 108, Cleveland 106; Phoenix 107, New York 88 and Seattle 114, Baltimore 110.

The Floridians attempted to come back with a rally that closed the Cougars' 16-point lead to two in the third period and to within seven in the last stanza. Mack Calvin scored several of his 39 points in the Floridian comeback try.

President Opens GOP Door to All

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert J. Dole says whatever the titles in the Republicans' new three-way party leadership arrangement, "I'm going to be the boss."

The GOP National Committee's ratification of Dole today as the new chairman is a formality following President Nixon's recommendation.

The Kansas senator succeeds Rep. Rogers C.B. Morton of Maryland, who is leaving the GOP committee and Congress to become secretary of interior.

Thomas B. Evans Jr. of Wilmington, Del., and Mrs. Tobin Armstrong, wife of a Texas rancher, were picked as co-chairmen of the committee.

Evans will be the fulltime party professional in charge of organization and administration. Mrs. Armstrong's new duties were not so clearly defined; Dole said she will deal with special projects.

The first-term Kansas senator said that would free him from administrative and office-keeping duties at the national committee to tend to his work in the Senate and to speak for the party on the road.

He said that is the way President Nixon wants it. Nixon named Dole, as expected, and the two new co-chairmen—a title-changing move not anticipated—in a telephone conversation Thursday with a nominating committee selected to seek a new chairman.

The settlement had been carefully orchestrated in advance conferences among Morton, Dole, White House political aides and the new co-chairmen. "As I understand it," said Evans, who has been deputy chairman of the Republican National Finance Committee, "it was President Nixon's request to somewhat divide the responsibilities."

"Bob Dole has his hands full in the Senate and being spokesman for the party," Evans said. Dole had faced opposition, notably from Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott, on grounds the party should have a fulltime man in that post, not a member of Congress.

Dole said the settlement Nixon endorsed should get around that problem.

Another Republican with close White House ties put it more bluntly, saying state party leaders want to be sure somebody with influence will be available when they pick up the telephone and call the national committee.

"These people want somebody with clout, somebody they can be sure of reaching," he said. "They don't care who goes on television, they care who they can get on the telephone."

"A lot of people want a full-time chairman," said Peter O'Donnell, national committee-man from Texas. "This is a step to overcome that problem."

Actually, it is a settlement that simply changes the titles, and presumably the responsibilities, of the two top deputies to the national chairman. In the past, there has been a deputy chairman, the GOP's chief administrator, with a woman serving as assistant chairman. Dole said the responsibilities will be enlarged along with the change in titles.

11 Into Six Goes With a Jerry West

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Eleven into six will go... if you have Jerry West doing the arithmetic.

West scored 11 points in the last six minutes to help Los Angeles wipe out a Cincinnati lead and beat the Royals 126-120 in the National Basketball Association Thursday night.

The Lakers held a 62-55 lead at the half, but trailed by as much as five points during the fourth period.

The Royals led 101-99 when the hot-handed West tied it with the first of his big field goals at the six-minute mark. Then the Lakers' veteran guard added nine more to help his club pull away in the contest played on a neutral floor in Toronto, Can.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Chicago beat Philadelphia 108-103, Buffalo trimmed Portland 119-113; Detroit topped Cleveland 108-106; Phoenix bombed New York 107-88 and Seattle turned back Baltimore, 114-110.

In the American Basketball Association, it was Utah, 116, Memphis 102; Carolina 133, Floridians 130 and Pittsburgh 122, Kentucky 111.

West, a perennial NBA all-star, finished with a game-high 33 points while Wilt Chamberlain helped out matters with 30.

Johnny Green, the 37-year-old wonder who sat out most of the second and fourth quarters, led the Royals with 27 points.

Bob Love spearheaded a fourth-quarter surge for Chicago, scoring nine of his 27 points, as the Bulls pulled away from Philadelphia. Bailey Howell led the 76ers with 22 points.

Bob Kauffman scored 30 points to lead Buffalo over Portland. The Braves trailed 27-11 after seven minutes but rallied for a 31-31 first quarter tie, then pulled into a 59-54 halftime lead behind Kauffman's scoring.

Jimmy Walker's 15-foot jumper with four seconds left enabled Detroit to beat Cleveland, which lost its 45th game in 51.

Phoenix slapped a defensive lid on New York, holding the Knicks to 14 third quarter points, and rolled behind Dick Van Arsdale's 25 points. Paul Silas helped to knock out the Knickerbockers with 20 rebounds.

Seattle, ahead by 21 points early in the fourth period, withstood a late Baltimore surge that just fell short. The Super-Sonics led 96-75 before the Bullets cut the deficit to 110-108 on a basket by Jack Marin.

power should be curtailed. He signed with New Orleans after playing out his option with San Francisco in 1967. Rozelle then ordered that the Saints give their No. 1 draft picks for 1968 and 1969 to the 49ers.

Parks told newsmen that Rozelle apparently was attempting to discourage players from playing out their options and discourage owners from signing players who become free agents in that manner.

Mecom said the Parks transaction and the expansion draft were two of the subjects about which he was questioned by the grand jury, but did not go into specifics about the questioning.

The grand jury has been concentrating on owner-player relations in a search for illegal restraints of trade which could bring criminal indictments under antitrust laws.

The only other witness Thursday was Elbert Kimbrough, an Oakland Calif., service station operator who was defensive back with the 49ers from 1962 through 1966.

New Orleans claimed him in the expansion draft for 1967, but he sat out that season. He returned from pro football after being with the Saints in 1968 and 1969.

Kimbrough, 32, told newsmen that he thought he had been treated unfairly in being put on the expansion list after five years as a first stringer.

He said the grand jury questioned him about that part of his career, but declined to discuss details of his testimony.

Minnesota Twins Sign Four Players

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Twins announced the signings today of four players, including infielders Rich Reese and Danny Thompson.

Also signed were rookie pitcher Steve Luebber, a left-hander who had a 17-11 record at Orlando in 1970 and struck out 200, and right-hander Dick Woodson, who has been up and down with the Twins for two seasons.

The Twins now have six players on their major league roster under contract.
